

Leave XM, and other satellite radio providers alone! Enough of big business maintaining monopolies and using politicians and government agencies to stifle anything new, innovative or which might actually provide some competition.